As President/Moderator of the National Consortium on Racial and Ethnic Fairness in the Courts I wish to offer my sincerest appreciation for all who have joined us in our 26th Annual Conference.

This year’s conference could not have occurred without the full cooperation of our host, the Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation. We are indebted to the Leadership of Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation for its willingness to assist the National Consortium in fulfilling its mission of encouraging the highest courts of each state to create commissions to examine the treatment accorded minorities in their courts.

During this conference if we can do anything to assist you in making this a truly memorable experience please ask one of the conference staff to help—they are more than willing and able to do so.

Edward C. Clifton
National Consortium President/Moderator

Dear Conference Attendees,

On behalf of the Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation, we would like to welcome you to Wyoming for the 26th Annual Conference of the National Consortium on Racial and Ethnic Fairness in the Courts. We are grateful to you for taking the time to attend this conference and for your commitment to equal access to justice. We would also like to thank the National Consortium for allowing us to host this conference, as well as our fellow Planning and Programming Committee members who have spent months working to ensure that the 26th Annual Conference is a success.

For the past 26 years, the National Consortium has engaged this country in a much-needed dialogue about how we can work toward a justice system that is fair for all of its constituents, regardless of race and ethnicity. The HMWF is pleased to take part in this critical discussion.

The Foundation was created to support education and research on the unjust incarceration of nearly 14,000 people of Japanese ancestry at Heart Mountain. What happened at Heart Mountain may have ended nearly 70 years ago but the dilemmas it presents for our courts, for our citizens, and for our country live on. Heart Mountain taught us to speak up when others are wronged, to never judge someone based on the color of their skin, and to fight for the ideals upon which this country was built. We hope that these lessons will make our country stronger in the face of adversity and will help us remember that we have a responsibility to protect the rights of others.

Thank you for joining us today. Over the course of this conference, you will stand on the ground where immigrants and U.S. citizens lost their freedom, and you will be led to critically reflect on the context in which legal decisions of the time were made. You will experience a reenactment of the trial of the Heart Mountain draft resisters, who refused to comply with the draft until the United States restored their families' rights. You will engage in discussion with national experts on implicit bias, tribal court systems, and ways in which our judicial system can better serve immigrants, juveniles, and low-income populations. We hope you enjoy the programs we have planned and the tour of our award-winning Interpretive Center!

Sincerely,

Dear Conference Attendees:

On behalf of the Wyoming Supreme Court, I am very pleased to welcome you to the 26th annual conference of the National Consortium on Racial and Ethnic Fairness in the Courts. We are delighted this year's conference is being held in Wyoming and hosted by the Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation.

Heart Mountain is an ideal location for a conference focused on the equal treatment of all parties in the judicial system. The story of confinement of Japanese Americans at Heart Mountain during World War II – a story so powerfully told by the Heart Mountain Interpretive Learning Center – relates directly to the purpose of this conference. Heart Mountain stands as a reminder of the threats discrimination poses to our citizens' constitutional and civil rights. The lessons of Heart Mountain make this a perfect place to examine racial and ethnic fairness in the courts.

The program and agenda for your conference this week is outstanding. Judges from various courts, attorneys and advocates, law professors and other experts from Wyoming and around the country will address a wide variety of issues – all of the discussions focused on how we can ensure equal access to justice in America's courts. In addition to the formal presentations, I am very happy the agenda provides an opportunity for you to examine the history of Heart Mountain through the Interpretive Learning Center.

Once again, welcome to Wyoming! I hope you will have a chance to enjoy the beauty of our state during your visit. Thank you for attending this important conference and for your commitment to the important issues we will discuss this week.

Sincerely,

Marilyn S. Kite
Chief Justice
Dear Conference Attendees:

Welcome to the 25th annual conference of the National Consortium on Racial and Ethnic Fairness in the Courts. We are pleased that Cody, Wyoming was selected as the site for the conference to be hosted by the Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation.

What we have all learned from the internment of our Japanese citizens during World War II here, is that racial discrimination can serve no valid purpose except to create additional problems.

This area is close to where the last Indian Wars occurred which implemented the policy of extermination.

On behalf of the Shoshone and Arapaho Tribes, we are honored to have your presence.

Sincerely,

John St. Clair, Chief Judge
Dear Attendee,

We are honored to have you visit our home for this challenging conference. Wyoming is the perfect pick. Why, you may ask? A couple of hints:

- On December 10, 1869, John A. Campbell, Wyoming’s first territorial Governor, signed a bill making Wyoming the first state to grant women the right to vote.
- In 1870, the first female ballot was cast by Eliza A. Swain of Laramie, WY.
- On February 17, 1870, Esther Hobart Morris was appointed the First Woman Justice of the Peace in South Pass City, WY.
- On March 7, 1870, the first all-women jury was sworn-in in Laramie, WY.
- In 1870, Martha Symons-Boies-Atkinson of Albany County was appointed the first woman bailiff in the world.
- In 1894, Estelle Reel Meyer was the first woman statewide elected official. She was elected as Superintendent of Public Instruction.
- From 1920-1921, Jackson, WY was the first town in America to be governed entirely by women. There was a woman mayor, town council and town marshal. One of the councilwomen defeated her husband for the council seat.
- From 1925-1925, Nellie Tayloe Ross of Wyoming was elected and served as the first woman governor in the United States.

Wyoming enjoys a great legacy of fairness and is an appropriate venue for the National Consortium to gather.

In addition to that, you will find some wonderful places to see when you are not attending the workshops. Yellowstone National Park and the Buffalo Bill Center of the West are two great starters. I hope you enjoy your stay and find your time in Park County professionally and personally productive.

Thank-you for coming.

Sincerely,

Steven Cranfill
DISTRICT COURT JUDGE

Keynote Addresses

Secretary Norman Y. Mineta & Senator Alan K. Simpson
Thursday, June 26, 2014, 8:30 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.

Alan K. Simpson and Norman Y. Mineta are two men who have dedicated their lives to public service and whose names are associated with Wyoming leadership and Japanese American history. The two met during World War II as Boy Scouts from opposite sides of the barbed wire fence surrounding Heart Mountain.

Now recognized as national models of bipartisanship, their friendship defied wartime uncertainty and has endured more than 65 years. Honorary co-chairs of the Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation Advisory Council, Simpson and Mineta will speak about how their experiences at Heart Mountain influenced their careers in public service, and why the Japanese American confinement history remains relevant today.

Norman Y. Mineta
U.S. Secretary of Commerce and of Transportation, Retired

Secretary Norman Y. Mineta, President and CEO of Mineta and Associates, LLC and former U.S. Secretary of Transportation, is recognized for his work in transportation and national security. For almost 30 years, Sec. Mineta represented San Jose, California—first on the City Council, then as mayor, and later as a member of the U.S. Congress. While in Congress, he co-founded the Congressional Asian Pacific American Caucus. He was instrumental in passing legislation that would provide Redress to Japanese Americans wrongly imprisoned during World War II. He chaired the U.S. House Transportation and Public Works Committee, as well as Subcommittees on Aviation and on Surface Transportation. In 2000, President William H. Clinton appointed Sec. Mineta as Secretary of Commerce. In this position, Sec. Mineta was known for his work on technology issues, for achieving international cooperation and intergovernmental coordination on complex fisheries issues and for streamlining the patent and trademark process. President George W. Bush appointed Sec. Mineta as Secretary of Transportation, a position he held until 2006. Following the September 11 terrorist attacks, Sec. Mineta guided the creation of the Transportation Security Administration—the largest mobilization of a new federal agency since World War II. He later served as a vice president of Lockheed Martin. Sec. Mineta has received numerous awards, including the Presidential Medal of Freedom—the highest civilian honor in the United States—and the Wright Brothers Memorial Trophy, which is awarded for significant public service of enduring value to aviation in the United States.

Alan K. Simpson
U.S. Senator from 1979 to 1997, Retired

Senator Alan K. Simpson was born September 2, 1931 and is a native of Cody, Wyoming. He attended the University of Wyoming and received a Bachelor of Science in Law in 1954. Upon graduating, he joined the Army and was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant. He served overseas in the 5th Infantry Division and in the 2nd Armored Division (Hell on Wheels) in the final months of the Army’s Occupation in Germany. In 1956, Al returned to the University of Wyoming and earned his J.D. in 1958.

After a short time as Wyoming Assistant Attorney General, he joined his father, Milward L. Simpson, and later Charles G. Kepler, in the law firm of Simpson, Kepler and Simpson for the next 18 years. He also served 11 years as City Attorney. Al was elected to the Wyoming State Legislature as a Park County representative in 1964. During his 13 years in the Wyoming House of Representatives, he held the offices of Majority Whip, Majority Floor Leader and Speaker Pro-Tem. In 1978, Al was elected to the U.S. Senate. He was re-elected in 1984 and 1990, and served as Assistant Majority Leader from 1984 to 1994. Al has taught at Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government and at the University of Wyoming. He is a partner in the firm of Simpson, Kepler and Edwards—the Cody division of Burg, Simpson, Eldredge, Hersh & Jardine. His book, Right in the Old Gazoo: A Lifetime of Scrapping with the Press, chronicles his personal experiences with the media. A biography, Shooting from the Lip: The Life of Senator Al Simpson, was published in 2011. He was a member of the Iraq Study Group, and co-chaired the Commission on Fiscal Responsibility and Reform with Erskine Bowles.

A special feature of this year’s conference is the public reading and discussion of a script authored by Judge Denny Chin and Kathy Hirata Chin. A trial reenactment of the largest mass trial in Wyoming history, “Heart Mountain: Conscience, Loyalty, and the Constitution” tells of the 1944 federal trial of 63 young men who resisted the military draft to protest their confinement at Heart Mountain and were prosecuted for doing so. Two of the original litigants, Yosh Kuromiya and Takashi Hoshizaki, will be assuming roles in the production. The reenactment will be followed by a Q&A session led by Professor Eric L. Muller.

The Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation is the independent non-profit that oversees the Heart Mountain WWII Japa ese American Confinement Site on the original location of the “Heart Mountain Relocation Center” built in 1942. It is here that more than 14,000 Americans of Japanese descent from the West Coast were confined during World War II. On the site today, there is an Interpretive Center (pictured on the cover of this program), which opened in August 2011 and features a world-class museum with interactive exhibits, a gallery space, theater, archive and modern-day victory garden.
The site also includes a war memorial, walking tour and original camp structures.

The Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation formed in 2011 and is dedicated to educating the public about the tragic and illegal imprisonment of Japanese Americans at Heat Mountain during World War II, as well as memorializing the place and events that have come to represent the fragility of democracy.

Be a part of advancing the legacy of Heart Mountain by becoming a member. As a private non-profit, we depend on the generosity of members and donors to maintain the site and execute our mission. Membership forms are available throughout the conference or go to http://www.shopheartmountain.org/Memberships_c7.htm
